

1 Summary

In the past decades, significant changes have taken place in the economy and in the social structure in Hungary. The privatization and then the formation of a capital-intensive layer and the growth of investors and businesses brought significant changes in the competitive sector as a whole, which also meant changes in property protection activities.

In my dissertation, I outline the transformation of property protection in the light of domestic historical facts and chains of events, during which I reveal the development of the private property area, in terms of education and training. During my research, I collect the available literature in the field that I will process. In evaluating the theoretical background, legislative options and changes are also involved, as well as the area of education development, with considerable emphasis.

My dissertation plays an important role in analyzing the history, legal and professional background of persons and guardians as well as private property defense specialists. I also deal with the empirical research carried out by a questionnaire-based methodology for a nationally active but rural person and guardian and associated with them in a primary research. The research direction, which was created by combining quantitative and qualitative methods, was motivated by the fact that in the East-Hungary region, higher unemployment and increasing capital inflows make the private security sector and development direction extremely varied.

I outline the motivational and professional problems that arise during my research, together with suggestions in my dissertation, and in addition to many other topics, I strive to deal with the aspects of future development and transformation as a necessary topic.

When evaluating the areas processed in my dissertation, a complex result can be obtained. During the secondary research I reviewed the historical, theoretical and legal background of the property protection work. By analyzing the involved groups, I have completed the collection and evaluation of the Hungarian scientific and professional history, related international knowledge. With the purposeful and layered examination of the security and psychological theories, I have created the scientific basis for the processing of the research area and have specialized in introducing important theses in the field.
